Summary

Passionate about learning and creating website applications and systems. Self-taught full stack developer who began with simple HTML/CSS and has gained a decade of experience with front-end and back-end website tech stacks.

Currently own a Digital Agency called Brod Solutions, where we boost website value by providing eCommerce design and development. This venture launched in 2012 and is now 10+ years strong.

I'm a computer nerd that also loves golf, snowboarding, woodworking, Michigan Football and dogs. Life is an ever-evolving journey that requires persistence and creativity, therefore I stay open to opportunities of all shapes and sizes.
